

The Role We Can All Play In Securing Global Health – Are We Doing Enough?

HOSTED BY: PROJECT HOPE & HealthAffairs

0:02 / 1:06:23

Keeping Systems Running During a Global Health Crisis – How Do We Prevent Panic?

26 views

Project HOPE

Published on Jun 27, 2017

SUBSCRIBE 207

A symposium, sponsored by Project HOPE and Health Affairs, assembled a group of noted experts in global health on June 14, 2017 in New York to discuss how to prepare for future pandemics by taking steps now to keep vulnerable health systems secure. The focus of this panel was "Keeping Systems Running During a Global Health Crisis – How Do We Prevent Panic?"

Moderator:

Pete Mooney, Deloitte

Panel speakers:

- Rabih Torbay, President, Project HOPE (0:45)
- Sheri Fink, Correspondent, New York Times (5:15)
- Marian Salzman, CEO, Havas PR (16:00)
- Ambassador Miriam Sapiro, Partner, Finsbury (19:55)
- Frederick Robinson, Head, Global health and Life Sciences Practice, Norton Rose Fulbright (26:25)

Category Nonprofits & Activism

License Standard YouTube License

SHOW LESS

0 Comments

SORT BY

Add a public comment...